the convenience of having a few cans on hand of

HEINZ BAKED BEANS

when you are rushed for time.
They are so easy to prepare, and so thoroughly appetizing and wholesome that many housewives consider them indispensable.

Their distinguishing point is that they are really Baked—baked brown and meaty, every bean whole, with the food value left in it. That's where they differ from other brands—most of which are simply boiled beans—except on the label.

14 INNINGS AND GAME WAS 2-2

RIVERSIDE LEAGUE STANDING

	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Kaiala	4	3	1	.750
Palama	4	3	1	.750
Japanese	5	3	2	.600
C. A. C.	4	1	3	.250
Aloha	5	1	4	.200

Aloha Park was the scene of another battle Sunday afternoon. About seven to nine thousand people lined the park to witness the contest between the sons of Dai Nippon and the Chinese Aloha boys, and the two old veterans, the Palama A. C. and the Kaiala A. C.

In the first game the Japanese again proved their superiority in the handling of the horsehide. Jack Flores, Kuanli, and Geo. Ross are the most dangerous men in the Nippon nine and it was due to them that the Aloha boys went down to defeat. In the first three or four innings the game was very good with the Aloha boys leading, 5 to 3, and at the end of the fifth or sixth innings, with three bases full and two out, Ross sent a fly over the center field, scoring four runs. The Aloha boys tried hard to even things up, but it was too late.

The second game was then due and the hearts of the different spectators began to beat in feverish heat. The odds were in favor of the old war-horses the Palama A. C. and it round the park nothing but the "Palama! Palama!" was heard.

"We will beat them," said Henry Walker, the best centerfielder that Palama has.

"I will pitch the best I know how," said Espinda, the twirler of the Palama, and a corner in the box.

"We will lick them," said Captain Hoopli of the Kaiala, in the meantime putting on his glove for the coming fray.

The battle began with both sides confident of victory, and it waged furiously from 3:30 p. m. until dark hovered over the field and when Bert Bower was unable to see the sphere any longer he raised his hands over his head informing the people, who were wild with excitement, that the battle was a draw. It was a fourteen-inning game, and the score was 2 to 2.

Some fine play was exhibited during the game, especially by Jim Kaia-wai and Henry Walker, in putting out two Kaiala men at the home plate on a throw from the left and center field, respectively, nabbing the men at the home plate. Had these men scored, the game would have been won by the Kaiala.

Antone Medeiros pitched a fine game throughout, as did Espinda. Makani, the southpaw of the Riverside, was given a pass-ticket throughout the game by Espinda.

FROM THE PRESS BOX

It is not the intention of Barney Jay to be rough during the game, but it nevertheless proves that a guarded temper and a little forethought while addressing an official of the game will prove not only cheaper but better in the long run, to himself and to his team. Barney's retirement to the beach Saturday possibly proved the undoing of his team, as up to that time it was anybody's game, with favor resting on the heavier hitters. Bert Bower has been lenient to some of the boys during little mix-ups of Saturday's nature, and his sending Barney from the field proves that less talk and more effort to play clean ball is the order of the day hereafter. That his action met with the approval of the spectators there is little doubt and it is to be regretted that little things of his kind should creep into amateur ball at all.

Marcellino also took a swing at the play, releasing Warren from short, and filling the initial bag in exchange. Arriving twenty minutes late, as he did, he certainly dug into the scoreboard. Out of two times' hit but he made one hit, two runs, three put-outs, and stole two bags just to make it interesting.

Hampton's three-bagger was nicely placed and came pretty near being the longest hit of the season. Hampton has been doing a good deal of bunting this series, with not any too good success, and, for a heavy hitter, the fans would sooner see him slam it out.

Williamson, the grand old man of the Puns, broke into the game in the seventh, but had no opportunity to show his metal. He is the subject of much joshing from the crowd along first-base line and has won the boys by his jolly good nature.

Warren, on first with Warren on short, need a deal of practise in the pick-up-and-throw. "Short" Warren proved that he could handle the ball all right, but was off in his throw, as was "Brother" Warren when it came to stopping 'em.

Evers' sacrifice in the initial inning of the first game, advancing Omos and Fernandez, was one of the headiest plays of the day, and showed the result of practise in the hit-and-run game, now being played to good advantage by the Jewels.

Lemon went over the high board fence like a monkey on a stick.

J. Walter Doyle was an interested spectator on the Ewa bleachers in company with "Cousin Jack." Be-

WAILUKU BASEBALL

(Special Bulletin Wireless)
WAILUKU, Maui, June 1.
The games at Wailuku Park on Sunday drew a good crowd and great ball was played. The Stars entered a protest in their game with the Waikapu, which was a fine exhibition. The results of the day follow:
Waikapu 5, Stars 3.
Kahului 5, Heanani 3.

Bulletins and Team of the Paradise Winners

The Advertisers lost and the Bulletins won out in the Newspaper League games yesterday. Both contests were close, the first match, between the Stars and the Bulletins, resulting in a score of 8 to 7, and the other, between the Paradise and the Advertisers, ending with the score at 6 to 5. As can be seen from the scores, the games were the best played which have been put up on any one Sunday by the newspapermen.

The victory of the Bulletins was the direct result of the retiring of Connors from the box for the Stars in the ninth inning, when they put in Brewster and the nine took the hobgoblin, three men racing across the pan before the career down-hill could be checked. The third run was all that was needed to do it.

The second game was nicely played and free from features. The heavenly crowd got their winning run in the last round.

These results leave the Stars at the very end of the procession, and put the Paradise in the van.

That the type-slingers can play ball when they hit their stride is easily to be seen.

Between the two they managed to make things interesting during the dull moments of the afternoon.

Ginger Mayne opened up on the slab for the Puns, doing fairly well for a few innings, till Hampton was called on to relieve him. It was more like "Ginger Snap" after some of the hard-hitting Kans located him.

GEO. KEENEY LEAVING

(Special to the Bulletin)
Wailuku, Maui, May 30. — Mrs. Geo. L. Keeney, wife of the cashier of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Co., left last Tuesday afternoon per steamer Claudine for Honolulu en route to the Coast to join her family. Mr. Keeney will follow her when the big plantation finishes grinding this year's crop, some time in July. Mr. Keeney will give up plantation life, to which he had been attached for the past ten years, rising through various grades in the plantation system until he attained the position of cashier of the largest plantation in the Territory, handling the largest number of men and paying out the biggest amount in salaries and wages to the employees of this giant sugar mill, which expects to turn out over 45,000 tons of sugar this year. Mr. Keeney will join his brother E. M. Keeney in the management of their farm at Riverside, Cal., and expects to make a good thing of it. Wm. Walsh, who is next in line of promotion, will succeed Mr. Keeney at the Puunene office.

M'EBYDE CROP 11,500

(Special to the Bulletin)
Wailuku, Maui, May 30.—E. J. Morgan, chief carpenter for the Mahee Sugar Co. of Kealia, was a visitor at Wailuku last week in connection with the Eleele breakwater and electric-driven sugar-shipping apparatus.

Mrs. R. Catton and daughter have been guests of Mrs. Wm. Stodart this last week. They returned to town by the last Kinau.

W. L. Whittington, pilot and wharfinger of Eleele, has severed his connection with the Kauai Railroad Co. and will move to Waimae to take charge of the landing there.

Melbyde mill ground its last stick of cane by 9 o'clock last night. Its total yield of this year is close on to 11,500 tons, about 3,400 tons more than last year's crop. The 1909 crop is in splendid condition.

The barkentine Foohing Sney left last week with sugar from Eleele for the Delaware Breakwater via the Horn.

The Maxwell

The "Maxwell" Tourabout laid the foundation of the fame of the "Maxwell" line. The 14 H. P. model, sold at $525, was the first car of proved efficiency to be offered at such a price. The "Maxwell" was the first car to introduce features of such prime importance as:

The "Maxwell" Double-Disc Clutch.
Three-Point Suspension of Power Plant and Transmission Case.
Single-Unit Construction of Engine and Transmission Case.
Pumpless Thermo-syphon Cooling System.
Indestructible Axle Bodies.

Its victories in endurance contests, hill climbs and economy tests have established unprecedented records for cars of its class.

The 24 H. P. Touring Car shown here is the latest achievement of the "Maxwell" line.

The marvelous simplicity of the "Maxwell's" mechanism eliminates the necessity of a chauffeur—makes it the ideal car for the untrained owner.

If you have never ridden in a "Maxwell" you are not yet equipped to purchase a car. Get a "Maxwell Convincer"—a demonstration ride—in this Tourabout—or, if you want a larger car, the 24 H. P., $1,750 Touring Car cannot fail to satisfy your needs.
